Aim:

The first aim is to make a trading web page using html, css and bootstrap. I have selected music instruments like guitars, piano and flute as the trading items. I have created the following pages:

1. Index.html. This is the homepage as shown in the screenshot below.

2. Newtrade.html. On click of 'Start a new trading', this page pops up. All the fields are temporary and may change in the future project.

Acoustic/ Electric Guitar

The guitar is a fretted musical instrument which has 6 strings. If you are a beginner, you might want to consider an acoustic guitar, else you can go ahead with the electric one. Available in various colors and brands.

Synthesizer/ Piano

A musical keyboard is a set of adjacent depressible levers or keys on a musical instrument. It is a great instrument to start with the music theory or to learn piano by itself. It has 88 keys of 6 octaves. Check below types for more information.

Flute

Flute is the melodic wind instrument that produces its sound from the flow of air across an opening. It comes only with one scale each. C scales are pretty common amongst male and G scales are meant for women.

4. Style.css: This is the file which contains all the css properties for all the html pages.

Extra features:

I have added a hover nav button with some css properties.

Status:

I have covered all the features required for this assignment.

Challenging points and how I overcame them.

I faced a very few challenges like alignment issues, hovering effects, and understanding bootstrap classes. I referred to a few sites, class videos to understand the concepts much further.

Interesting point:

1. Bootstrap, as this is the first time I am using it.
2. Styling of the CSS.
